

I trust this message finds you in good spirits. My name is Ali Raza, and I am currently enrolled in the Data Science program at the International University of Applied Sciences.

I'm reaching out to you with a request that's quite important to me. I'm in the process of formulating my thesis, I find myself drawn to your expertise and research in Deep Learning. Your work in this field has been both inspiring and influential to me.

Would you be open to discussing the possibility of supervising my thesis? I'm more than willing to adapt to your schedule for meetings or consultations.

Thank you very much for considering my request. Your mentorship would mean a great deal to me as I embark on this academic endeavor.

Looking forward to your response.
